Figures and Facts For Farmers

In 1892 Cleveland was elected President on a Free Trade platform. This year Wilson is running for President on exactly the same Free Trade platform. Taft is on a platform which declares for protection to the American Farmer.

Here is what the farmers of Breckinridge County received for their products from 1893-7 under Cleveland and Free Trade and what they are receiving now under Taft.

Products	Prices 1893-7	Prices 1912
Wheat	per bu. .42	$1.00
Corn	" " .20	.80
Oats	" " .16	.50
Hay	" ton 7.00	20.00
Hogs	" lb. .23-4	.83-4
Cattle	" " .21-2	.07
Lambs	" " .23-4	.0714
Sheep	" hd. 1.50	6.00
Good Mules	" " 80.00	225.00
Good Horses	" " 75.00	200.00
Wool	" lb. .11	.28
Eggs	" dz. .06	.20
Chickens	" lb. .04	.10
Turkeys	" " .041-2	.15
Tobacco	3, 2 & 0	9, 8 & 5

These prices show that the farmer receives under protection on an average more than three times the amount he obtained under Free Trade. Then why change the policy of the government? Do not listen to the politicians who seek advancement and office. Discuss these matters with your family and then vote for your own pocket book.—adv.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF THE OWENSBORO DISTRICT IN SESSION HERE

President of the Louisville Conference Honors the Meeting. Miss Davies, of Atlanta, will Arrive Tomorrow—Mrs. Bettie Whitehead and Mrs. Walter J. Piggott, Conference Officers in Attendance.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Owensboro District holds its annual meeting at the Methodist church in this city today and tomorrow. Mrs. L. M. Mell, district secretary, arrived last evening to complete the arrangements for the program, which begins at 10:30 o'clock this morning. The meeting will be opened by Mrs. V. G. Babbage, president of the local auxiliary. The Rev. Mr. Walker, pastor of the church, will offer the invocation. After reports are heard from the auxiliaries represented and other business transacted, the session will adjourn until the afternoon. The delegates will be assigned their homes by Mrs. Babbage, the president, assisted by Miss Mildred Babbage. The guests will be received and taken to their homes by the reception committee: Misses Susette Sawyer, Martha Miller, Annie DeHaven, Elizabeth Skillman, Misses Smith and Miss Louise Babbage.

Unusual Honor.

This is the first district meeting ever known to be visited by four conference officers. As a rule, the district meeting is usually attended by a delegation from the auxiliaries and one or two of the conference officers. The Cloverport women of the Methodist church appreciate the opportunity to see and hear and know Mrs. H. A. Davies, of Louisville, the conference president, Miss Tula Daniels, the corresponding secretary of the foreign department, Mrs. Walter J. Piggott, the fourth vice president, and Mrs. Bettie Whitehead, the recording secretary. Mrs. Wilbur Barclay, who arrived from Louisville this morning, will give a talk on "The Religions of The World" which will be enjoyed by every man and woman of Cloverport. Tomorrow evening Miss Daisy Davies, of Atlanta, Ga., who is one of the managers of the Board of Missions, will make an address of much importance. Among the delegates expected are Mrs. Crabtree and Mrs. Solesburg, of Central City; Mrs. Wegenest and Mrs. Jarboe, of Stephensport; Mrs. Malin and Mrs. Moore, of Owensboro; and Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. — from Beaver Dam. Those who have made plans to entertain the delegates and visitors are: Mrs. Frank Fraize, Mrs. Forrest Light-

Democratic Campaign Headquarters

Hardinsburg, Ky., October 29, 1912.

Notice to Democrats and Committeemen:

A meeting of the Breckinridge County Democratic Executive and Campaign Committees is hereby called for Saturday, November 2, 1912, at the Court House in Hardinsburg, at the hour of one o'clock p. m. At this hour and place the Democrats of our county will receive a message from Gov. Woodrow Wilson, and the Committees will convey same to their respective precincts. All Democrats are invited to be present.

I was in State headquarters this week and saw direct communications from the National Democratic managers. They say that victory is ours, without doubt. Therefore, it should be the ambition and purpose of every Committeeman and every Democrat to make our county's showing such as to deserve its share of the honors and patronage, if any there be. The Progressives have developed unexpected and appalling strength in many of the formerly safe Republican States. Money is being bet in Louisville that Roosevelt will carry Kentucky over Taft. The "Bull Moosers" are in the battle to the finish, and will control the county organization of many Kentucky counties. Their managers claim they will break even or carry Breckinridge. The New York, Ohio and Indiana Republican vote is about evenly divided between Taft and Roosevelt, thus indicating Wilson's victory in each of these pivotal States, and California is practically sure to be carried by Roosevelt. Pennsylvania even is very doubtful, and favors Wilson.

I earnestly urge that the Democratic election officers be at the polls promptly. Let those who have heretofore served be on hand to give advice and assistance in procuring a full vote and fair count. Challengers and inspectors will be named by the precinct chairman.

Our friends, the Republicans, have heretofore howled for clean politics. It is a notorious fact that they bought each other like cattle in the recent county convention, which was dominated by postmasters and office-holders. I do not know whether or not they will use money or whiskey in this election. I do know that every cent that I have disbursed is the voluntary gift of individuals, contributed as heretofore published; and further, that not one cent of it has been or will be spent for votes or whiskey, and that my disposition of every cent of it will be shown by written publication. Our campaign has been and will be conducted as our peerless leader has directed, "by the people and for the people." If we win, so much greater the victory; if we lose, we at least can remember that our cause was righteous, and that our methods and candidate were fair and clean.

I earnestly urge that young Democrats of the county to become interested in politics and good government. Although Kentucky is positively safe, our county is always a battle ground, and next year is the time for a struggle. If you hope for the assistance of others next year, help the organization now. What your precinct does usually shows what you have done as individuals. You should have an interest in politics now, even if you want nothing; and, if you want nothing now, you may some time. Get out the vote in your precinct as on this the result largely depends.

Senator Bradley will arrive Wednesday full of fight and pretended confidence. He is an experienced, brilliant and eloquent campaigner. I am informed that the great trick that will be sprung at the last moment is the announcement "THAT ROOSEVELT IS OUT OF THE RACE AND THAT ALL OF HIS STRENGTH WILL GO TO TAFT." I believe our people are too smart to be gulled by this, and I only mention it that all may know how to meet the report.

Having done all that I have been directed to do by the higher campaign authorities, I trust that the five Committeemen in each precinct will see me on or before November 2, and receive final instructions and do their duty; and that every Democrat will vote himself and see that those around him do likewise. Let's all realize our duty, as this is the best chance of our lives to elect our man.

I am yours for success,

HENRY DEHAVEN MOORMAN,
Chairman Breckinridge County Campaign and Executive Committees.

foot, Mrs. John A. Ross, Mrs. James B. Randall, Mrs. F. T. Sawyer, Mrs. John D. Babbage, Mrs. Roscoe Leslie, Mrs. V. G. Babbage, Mrs. Shelby Conrad, Mrs. Francis Marion Smith, Mrs. C. W. Moorman, Mrs. Allen Kingsbury and Mrs. Fred Fraize.

Other Arrangements.

Miss Ida White has arranged the music for the meeting. Miss Margaret Burn is organist and the church choir will sing at the evening services. Miss Eva and Ella May will sing a duet Wednesday evening and Miss Edith Plank will sing a solo. The church has been decorated in potted plants from the Oelze green-house and not a stone has been left unturned to make the meeting one of decorum and inspiration.

League Business Meet.

The monthly business meeting of the Epworth League will be held next Tuesday night. All members are requested to attend and bring the dues for membership. President Denton is exceedingly anxious that the business meetings in 1912 be largely attended. Council meeting Monday night.

Has Foot Operated On.

Susan Walker had her foot operated on at Dr. Simons' Infirmary last week. She hurt it fifteen years ago, but it did not give her serious trouble until recently. She is a most excellent laundress of Cloverport, and her work has been the delight of many homes for years. Her friends hope the operation will be beneficial.

Mr. Severs Has Entered An Engineers Firm.

Roscoe Severs, a prominent civil engineer of West Virginia, has recently entered a successful firm of Jenkins, Ky., and it is now known as Ballard, Herring & Severs, railroad contractors.

The members of the organization are men who have held responsible appointments with railroad companies and whose work is the highest grade. Mr. Severs has recently been inspector over six hundred miles of track and his firm now has enormous contracts booked for the coming year.

New Church at English.

The Baptist church at English will be dedicated the first Sunday in November by Dr. Powell, of Louisville.

Been Ill Some Time.

Horv Wardrip has been ill several weeks at his home on the West Side. His friends hope to hear soon that he is convalescing. Mr. Wardrip is one of the young men clerks at Fraize's store.

Mr. Love Moves.

Mr. J. S. Love, of Irvington, who for some time has had the agency for Hancock, Breckinridge and Meade counties with the National Life and Accident Co., has been succeeded by Mr. S. L. Hall, of Owensboro, who will make his headquarters at Irvington. Mr. Love left Thursday for New Iberia, La., where he will locate. He has made many friends in Hancock county, who regret to see him go.—Hancock Clarion.

The Market.

The cattle market slow. Hogs lower tops $8.10; calves choice 7 and 8 cents; best lambs 4½ and 5½ cents. Shipping steers $7 and $8; beef steers $5 and $7.50; feeders $5 and $6. Eggs case count 23 cents.

Miss Ray Heyser and Miss Cleona Weatherholt will spend today and tomorrow in Louisville shopping, assisted by Misses Ditto and Fairleigh.

TWENTY-THREE YEARS.

E. H. Monohan Has Pulled Through Many Experiences While Working on the Henderson Route—Never Sued the Road.

E. H. Monohan has been with the L. & St. L. R'y. twenty-three years. During that time he has met with three severe accidents. At Askins he was working in a cut and was buried fifteen feet in sand. Three men pulled him out of the sand with his eyes and ears and mouth full of the grains and three ribs broken.

It seemed like an avalanche of trouble had come over him, but he got well. No sooner had he recovered than he got knocked in the head with a spike and he refused to go to a doctor.

The round of trouble he had was in a wreck west of Rockvale—he got his jaw-bone broken in three places, skull crushed in three places, left shoulder broken, feet scalded and a piece of timber run in his hip. He was laid off eight months.

All this ill luck came to him on the railroad and he never sued the company. They always treated him right and he saw no reason for a lawsuit, for the railroad was not responsible for his misfortune.

Mr. Monohan lives at Irvington and has been night watchman since April. He has not lost an hour of time. Thirteen years he was section foreman and never had a man hurt, never had a wheel off his car during the whole time and never got off a day.

Mr. Monohan knows how to see the silver lining to every cloud, and takes life in the best sort of humor.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS OF KENTUCKY

State Convention Will Meet at Paducah

OCTOBER 29 TO NOVEMBER 1.

Famous Musicians to Be Present. Among Noted Speakers Are W. C. Pearce, Rev. F. N. Palmer, Rev. W. Fred Long and Various State Leaders and Divines.

The Forty-seventh Annual Convention of the Kentucky Sunday School Association will be held in Paducah Oct. 29-Nov. 1. The state executive committee has put forth every effort to make this the greatest convention ever held in the state, and in forming the program has secured experts covering every department of Sunday School endeavor. The pastor, the superintendent, the teacher, the pupil, the parent, all who are in any way interested in building up a true citizenship for our state and who desire to have the right influences come into the lives of the boys and girls, will find something helpful at the various sessions and conferences of the convention.

The music will be in charge of Professor E. O. Excell of Chicago, who will have as his pianist Professor A. W. Roper of Whinn Lake, Ind. These two men led the music at the World's Sunday School Convention in Washington, and also at the International Sunday School Convention at San Francisco. One of these has been fittingly called the "music king" and the other the "piano wizard."

W. C. PEARCE.

The International Association will be represented by Mr. W. C. Pearce of Chicago, who for many years has been at the head of the organized adult Bible class movement in America. He will speak on such topics as "The What and How of Teacher Training," "The Adult Bible Class and Its Meaning to the World," "The Sunday School Organized," "The Bible in Action." Mr. Pearce is a man of deep spiritual power and will help every one who has the opportunity of hearing him.

Dr. Palmer on Program.

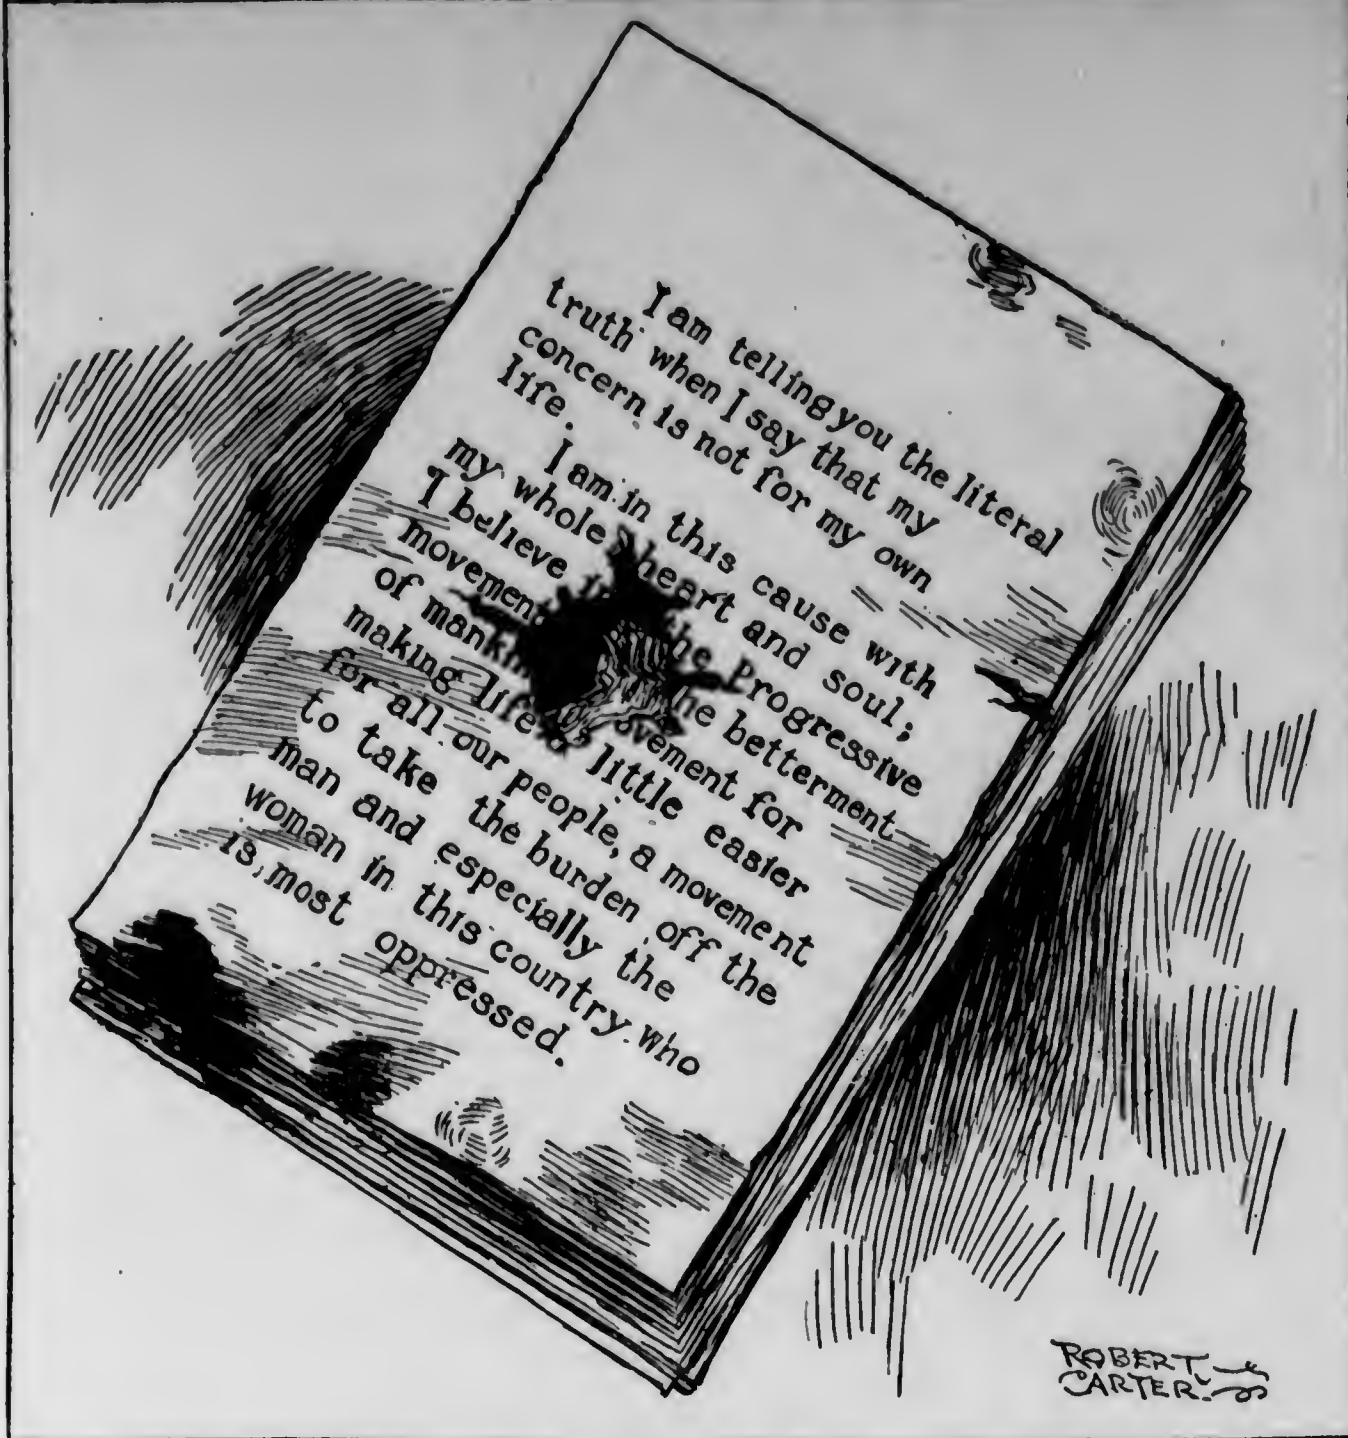

Rev. F. N. Palmer, D. D., of Winona Lake, Ind., will have four periods of Bible study. Dr. Palmer will attend only a few conventions this year, and Kentucky has been particularly fortunate in securing him at this time.

Rev. W. Fred Long, general secretary of the Mississippi Sunday School Association, will be among the speakers and comes to pay a visit to his old home as he is a Kentuckian and spent most of the years of his early manhood in Paducah. He is now one of the most successful Sunday School workers in America. One of his addresses will be "The Boy Over Fool Hill."

Kentucky Speakers.

Among the speakers from Kentucky will be Judge C. C. Grassm of Paducah, Hon. J. B. Weaver of Louisville, president of the state association; Rev. George A. Joplin, general secretary of the state association; Hon. Huston Quinn of Louisville, chairman of the state executive committee; Rev. T. C. Gebauer of Henderson, Mr. W. J. Vaughan of Louisville, and Miss Maude L. Dance of Louisville, all field workers of the state association; Miss Frances L. Grigsby of Louisville, office secretary of the state association; Miss Nannie Lee Frayser of Louisville, so well known everywhere as a speaker of rare ability. Walter Frazer, state superintendent of the Kentucky Bible School Association; Rev. Byron H. DeMent, D. D., of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, Louisville; Miss Madeline Reager of Louisville, Mrs. Agnes L. Elford of Ashland, Mr. C. J. Nugent, Jr., of Louisville, president of the Jefferson County Association, and many others who will take part in the conferences. This will be a very desirable opportunity to meet with the leading Sunday School workers of the state and be able to ask and have answered many of the questions that are troubling you.

A MESSAGE

Extract from Colonel Roosevelt's Speech delivered immediately after he was shot.

THE CAUSE NOT THE MAN

What Col. Roosevelt Said to His Milwaukee Audience.

NO CONCERN FOR HIS OWN LIFE

In the Greatest Campaign Speech on Record, With a Bullet in His Body, He Answered Forever the Argument That the Progressive Party is a One-Man Movement.

The speech that Col. Roosevelt delivered at Milwaukee with a bullet in his body was the most dramatic campaign utterance on record.

Just before he rose to speak Henry F. Cochems, head of the Progressive Party's Speakers' bureau and a Milwaukee man, came forward and said: "In presenting Col. Roosevelt to you, good citizens, good fathers and good civilians, you should know that the Colonel comes to you in the spirit of a good soldier."

"As we were leaving the hotel a few moments ago a dastardly hand raised a revolver and fired a shot at him, and the Colonel speaks as a soldier with a bullet in his breast; where, we don't know."

A shudder ran through the audience, accompanied by cries of "Oh, Oh," from the women present, who made up half of the audience.

Col. Roosevelt stepped forward and was greeted with a cheer that shook the building. He had the old grin on his face, and it was hard for the audience to credit the statement that he stood there like a soldier with the lead of an enemy in his body.

That there was no question of this was shown by a little incident. When the Colonel started to read his notes he took his spectacle case from the vest pocket, and turning to these just about him, exhibited it, indicating where the bullet of the assassin had nicked it. This brought another sympathetic cheer, to which Mr. Roosevelt responded with one of his smiles and began his talk.

"Friends, I shall ask you to be as quiet as possible," he said. "I don't know whether you fully understand that I have just been shot, but it takes more than that to kill a Bull Moose. (Cheers.) But fortunately I had my manuscript, so you see I was going to make a long speech (holds up manuscript with bullet hole) and there is a bullet—there is where the bullet went through and it probably saved me from it going into my heart. The bullet is in me now, so that I cannot make a very long speech, but I will try my best. (Cheers.)"

"And now, friends, I want to take advantage of this incident and say a word of solemn warning as I know how to my fellow countrymen. First of all I want to say this about myself: I have altogether too important things to think of to feel any concern over my own death, and now I cannot speak to you insincerely within five minutes of being shot."

"I am telling you the literal truth when I say that my concern is for many other things. It is not in the least for my own life. I want you to understand that I am ahead of the game anyway. (Applause and cheers.) No man has had a happier life than I have led; happier life in every way. I have been able to do certain things that I greatly wished to do and I am interested in doing other things."

"I can tell you with absolute truthfulness that I am very much uninterested in whether I am shot or not. It was just as when I was colonel of my regiment. I always felt that a private was to be excused for feeling at times some pangs of anxiety about his personal safety, but I cannot understand a man fit to be a Colonel who can pay any heed to his personal safety when he is occupied, as he ought to be occupied, with the absorbing desire to do his duty. (Applause and cheers.)"

"I am in this cause with my whole heart and soul. I believe that the Progressive movement is for making life a little easier for all our people; a movement to try to take the burdens off the men and especially the women and children of this country. I am absorbed in the success of that movement."

"I regard this incident as of infinitesimal importance as compared with the great issues at stake in this campaign, and I ask it not for my sake—the least in the world, but for the sake of our common country that our opponents make up their mind to speak only the truth, and not to use the kind of slander and mendacity which, if taken seriously, must incite weak and violent natures to crimes of violence."

THE LEADER AND THE CAUSE

Put Into Concrete Form Deep-Rooted Aspirations of Millions of Americans.

A PROOF OF CONSECRATION

Roosevelt Has Made Progressives, but He Did Not Make Progressivism—He Crystallized the Longings of Men but the Party Principles Were Born Long Ago in the Hearts of the Nation.

Roosevelt the ambitious egotist, the would-be Caesar—that monstrous figure of caricature drawn by enmity and malice has been destroyed, never to reappear. But we fancy the other thought—that this is a "one-man movement"—still persists, and it is upon this point that we purpose to speak with somewhat personal emphasis.

With the narrow escape from the tragedy fresh in mind, we say that Colonel Roosevelt was not the creator of the Progressive movement, that he is not the guarantor of its permanency nor his life necessary to its ultimate success.

The Progressive cause and the Progressive party are at this time millions of votes stronger because, responding to the call of duty, he sacrificed ease and braved misinterpretation to become their leader. The establishment of social and industrial justice in this country is, we believe, nearer by a quarter of a century because of the work unselfishly done by this great man.

But he did not create the cause. He has made Progressives, but he did not make Progressivism. He is, it has been said, the "political parent" of Folk and Hadley and Johnson and Wilson and others who have won prominence in the faith. But he did not implant in the breasts of men the aspirations for freedom and justice which the cause embodies.

The principles which now are set forth for the first time by a great political party as a "contract with the people" have long been the growing beliefs of millions of citizens. Roosevelt during his presidency began to interpret them and to put into concrete form and phrase these aspirations and convictions.

Like all effective leaders of historic movements, he crystallized and gave visible substance to the deep-rooted longings of men. He voiced what millions felt. But the cause was born in the heart of this nation, and there lies its strength. Even though that bullet had not been providentially deflected that marvelous fraction of an inch and he had fallen a martyr, the cause would still have gone on, because it is in harmony with the irresistible forces of human growth and evolution.

Had Grant died in the field, would that have meant the permanent disruption of the Union? His loss would have cost battles, but it could not have prevented the ultimate triumph of his cause. So if the Progressive leader had fallen, there would have been profound sorrow for the passing of a loyal friend and leader, but no feeling of hopelessness.

If this seems a cold and calculating view let us say that we believe it is the view Theodore Roosevelt would have his followers take. We believe that had he lost his life the epitaph he would wish to be written of him would be that he had served well, but that, as he himself said in the face of death, the cause would go on without him.

This was what moved him to that supreme proof of devotion last Monday night. This has been his spirit since the beginning. He showed it when, confronting the formidable nomenclature of Governor Wilson, he decided to make the fight. He said he felt like a soldier under orders: if he was summoned even to lead a forlorn hope, he must obey.

And this, we believe, is the view of the great body of Progressives. They look upon Roosevelt as an unequalled figure of brave and sagacious leadership; they are profoundly grateful for the strength that he gives to the movement, and they rejoice that he is spared to head the march to victory. But they know the cause would not have died with him, because it is founded on the eternal principles of justice, because it is the cause of humanity.

ERNEST HASWELL IN BRUSSELS

Only American, Besides Cole, Admitted to the Royale Academie de Beaux Arts

In all the world there is only a short list of sculptors and the names and addresses of them can be kept in a very little book. Some day on this brief and illustrious archives the name of Ernest Bruce Haswell may stand high.

October the fifth he was admitted to the Royale Academie de Beaux Arts of Brussels. And today he enjoys the distinction of being the only American admitted to the Ateller of Sculpture, more than that with one exception, the only American ever admitted. The exception is Cole, the son of Timothy Cole, the engraver, who studied there five years ago. The test that Mr. Haswell stood for entrance was a life size figure for Duber's class and a half life for Raoussau's class. The examination lasted a week and during that time he put in fifty hours of strenuous work. If Ernest Haswell had failed—no one knew—not even himself, what he would have done. Of course, he could have entered a smaller school, but he wanted a big one—and the Royale Academie de Beaux Arts of Brussels has the government back of it. Most Americans go to Paris where the admission to schools is without examination, but the training that Mr. Haswell will receive in Brussels is far superior to that provided in Parisian ateliers.

This is Ernest Haswell's first trip abroad. Behind him lay six years as a student and conspicuous factor at the Art School of Cincinnati. He started there a mere boy with an exact knowledge of what he wanted to do and he stayed with it until opportunities led him across the Atlantic. His forte is essentially sculpture which is very profitable, and he is going to introduce us to that in sculpture which we cannot appreciate until it comes from the heart and hand of the boy from Hardinsburg, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Haswell. He has the vision to see—the temperament to understand and finally, not merely the talent, but intelligence and energy to make his work significant. Much may be expected of Ernest Bruce Haswell, now twenty-three, and in the fulfillment of his early promise he should go far.

During the summer every housekeeper was busy counting how many cans of fruit she had in her pantry, now it's comforts and it is interesting to hear how many comforts and quilts are being made. Mrs. Ella Jordan has made, by herself, besides looking after the business of the St. George Hotel, twenty comforts. New bedding is indeed attractive and inviting in any home.

Returns From California.

W. B. Rayborne, of Dinuba, California, came in Monday to visit his old home, relatives and friends at Stephensport. He has been away for ten years and says he is doing fine. He grows grapes in several different varieties. His table and raisin grapes are fine and produce from $250 to $300 an acre. He bought land there ten years ago at from $5 to $10 an acre. It is now worth $150 to $250 per acre.

WOMAN SICK TWELVE YEARS

Wants Other Women to Know How She Was Finally Restored to Health.

Louisiana, Mo.:—"I think a woman naturally dislikes to make her troubles known to the public, but complete restoration to health means so much to me that I cannot keep from telling mine for the sake of other suffering women."

"I had been sick about twelve years, and had eleven doctors. I had dragging down pains, pains at monthly periods, bilious spells, and was getting worse all the time. I would hardly get over one spell when I would be sick again. No tongue can tell what I suffered from cramps, and at times I could hardly walk. The doctors said I might die at one of those times, but I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got better right away. Your valuable medicine is worth more than mountains of gold to suffering women."—Mrs. BERTHA MUFF, 503 N. 4th Street, Louisiana, Mo.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

TAXING COAT OFF POOR MAN'S BACK

Concrete Illustrations of What Protective Tariff Really Means.

CAUSE WORKERS TO THINK.

Iniquities of the Payne-Aldrich Act, Taft's "Best Law Ever," Strikingly Told In Figures.

Concrete examples of how a protective tariff operates are causing the workman, the "poor man," to do a lot of thinking nowadays. He is beginning to understand whether it is not about time to call a halt on the Republican practice of taxing the coat off his back and threatening him with the loss of his shirt and his socks if he does not submit.

All through the present tariff law, passed by a Republican congress and indorsed by a Republican president as THE BEST TARIFF BILL EVER PASSED, are to be found discriminations, the higher duty on the cheaper article, the lower duty on the dearer article, thus placing on the shoulders of those least able to bear it the greater burden of the protective system. Here are some illustrations:

The cheapest wool blankets bear a duty of 165.42 per cent; the dearest, 101.55 per cent.

Flannels, not more than 40 cents a pound, are taxed at 143.67 per cent;

Unset diamonds bear a 10 per cent duty; imitation diamonds, 20 per cent. The humble firecracker bears a 97.02 per cent duty, while elaborate fireworks bear but 70 per cent.

Matting, smaller and cheaper grades, 43 per cent; costlier, 24 per cent.

Watch movements, seven jewels, 66.02 per cent; 11 jewels, 49.41 per cent; 17 jewels, 31.15 per cent.

Underwear, cheapest, 56.10 per cent; dearest, 50 per cent.

Dress goods of wool, cheapest, 105.42 per cent; dearest, 91.13 per cent.

Velvets, cheapest, 105.22 per cent; dearest, 49.55 per cent.

Silk handkerchiefs, cheapest, 77.41 per cent; dearest, 59 per cent.

Sissors, worth 50 cents a dozen, 52.21 per cent; worth $1.75 a dozen, 40 per cent.

Table knives, fancy grades, 57.40 per cent; bone handled, 69.43 per cent.

Butcher knives, best grades, 52.10 per cent; cheapest grades, 93.55 per cent.

Fishes, smallest, $1.29 per cent, longest, 36.81 per cent.

Shotguns, worth from $5 to $10, 47.67 per cent; worth over $10, 45.46 per cent.

These are only a part of the discriminations, gleaned from a swift counting of some of the schedules. Reduced to simplest terms, they mean that the poor man is taxed higher than the rich man.

MISDIRECTED ENERGY.

"Energy is not a guiding or controlling entity at all, it is a thing to be guided. Energy by itself is as blind and blundering as a house afire or a driverless motor car." This comes from the lecture of Sir Oliver Lodge of the University of Birmingham. People should take time to plan the direction of their energy and then so much of it would not be wasted.

RECOGNIZED ABROAD.

To the gratification of many who know Ernest Haswell, of Hardinsburg, will be the information in The Breckenridge News this week that he has received recognition through his own merits by the government school in Belgium. From time to time we will give our readers paragraphs from Mr. Haswell's letters written in Brussels.

Hon. A. O. Stanley, the distinguished Congressman from the Second district, will speak in this city tonight. We wish it were possible that every Democrat—not alone every Democrat—but every citizen that loves good government could hear him. He is a great stump orator. He is familiar with politics, and knows the ins and outs of politics. He will handle the opposite parties this evening without gloves, that is to say he will show very plainly that the only party that can and will handle the affairs of the Government for the next four years in the interest of the people, is the Democratic party. Mr. Stanley has been a member of Congress for many years, and he has not been idle while in Washington. He has been up against the Steel Trust, the Standard Oil magnates, and the entire bunch of millionaires who think they carry the business end of this country in their vest pocket. It will pay you to come out and hear Mr. Stanley, because he is regarded as one of the best speakers the party has today, advocating the cause of Woodrow Wilson and the Democratic party.

Charles P. Taft has contributed $56,000 to help elect his brother President again. This is the largest amount contributed so far to the Republican campaign fund. The total amount received by the campaign treasurer has been $498,221. J. P. Morgan, Andrew Carnegie and Francis L. Leland, "the money kings," have been liberal contributors for Taft. Mr. Taft has not been speaking himself, and we will see just how much money talks for him this time next week.

A colored brother was asked if he would row Roosevelt across the river if he should come to Cloverport? "No, Mister, I's feared of him, he's a rough rider." How about Taft? "Well, sir, I couldn't row him for he twists around too much." How about Wilson? "Bless your life, sir, I Wood-row him—"One of C. A. Penick's latest.

J. C. Nolte & Bro.'s store was robbed of fifty dollars worth of goods Wednesday night and an attempt was made to enter Sawyer's grocery store. Mr. Nolte thinks it would be wise for the town to furnish a night watchman, as burglary is becoming a much practiced profession.

While you read of the low prices for farm products, 1893-7, just glance at another column in this paper and see what you farmers have to pay for what you buy. A vote for Wilson will help you to get what you buy at a lower price and still maintain the best prices of farm products.

We heard a Cincinnati man on the train last week say he was a thousand miles away from home, he would go back to vote. Every man should take the matter this seriously and vote for Woodrow Wilson.

Ed Gregory, who has been posting all the political speaking dates, declares he is not working for the postoffice. "Too many after that, I want to get Charlie Green's job—carrying the mail."

The Taftites are claiming they will carry Breckenridge by a good majority over Roosevelt. The Bull Moosers say they will poll 1,800 votes in the county. Both give the county to Wilson.

"Thank you" are two words that go a long way, but they are being substituted by the rubber stamp, "Paid." Gratitude in business pays, and we should take time to use it.

Colonel Roosevelt expects to speak at Madison Square Garden in New York tonight. This will be his last word in the campaign.

Democrats, do your duty next Tuesday. Come to the election, bring your neighbor and vote for Wilson.

Don't pay any attention to false telegrams received just before the election of Teddy's withdrawal.

CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS

Negro Boy Is Given Large Verdict.

Contributed.

The case of McKinley Lyons, a negro boy suing by his guardian, The Bank of Hardinsburg and Trust Company, was tried at the present term of Circuit Court. The negro boy recovered $3,350 for injuries received in a wreck of a hand car.

This is the first time in which a judgment was entered one year ago for the negro boy against the Railway Company for $400, but which judgment was attacked by Claude Mercer, employed by the negro boy's father, to have the judgment set aside and the judgment was set aside and the case was tried on its merits with the above result.

This case has been bitterly contested by the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis Railway Company.

Jas. R. Skillman, district attorney for the Railway Company, R. A. Miller, General Counsel for the Railway Company, and Col. David R. Murray appeared for the Railway Company.

Col. Bennett H. Young was associated with Claude Mercer in a trial of this action, representing the negro boy.

The celebrated case of Russell and Hutchison against Peter Sheeran and Company which was tried in this Court, resulting in a verdict of about $2,000 for Russell and Hutchison, and which was appealed to the Court of Appeals and reversed and sent back for another trial, was settled and dismissed, Russell and Hutchison paying the costs of the litigation.

This action was instituted for $6,000 or $7,000 damages which Russell and Hutchison said that they had sustained by reason of Peter Sheeran and Company violating a state contract but the suit is now ended on the aforesaid grounds.

Claude Mercer represented Sheeran and Company in this litigation.

Another case of considerable local interest was tried, growing out of a suit instituted by the Farmers Union against Sheeran and Company to recover $500, alleging violation of contract on the part of Sheeran and Company. The jury found in favor of Sheeran and Company.

Claude Mercer appeared for Sheeran and Company and Jno. P. Haswell for the Farmers Union.

No Other Word So Good.

"Just how careful one has to be before children I never realized until the other day," said Mrs. Ira Behen, who explained that often Mr. Behen would say "Tag gone, I can't find my hat" or something like that with the first word uttered on in front or at the last of his exclamation. Their little son, David, got on to the word and used it frequently. The mother thought he would forget it and would not call his attention to the fact that he should not use such a word. Last week, however, David used the word so vehemently that his mother felt compelled to say: "David, if I were you I would not say, 'Tag gone.' It is David thought awfully seriously, then asked: "Well, mother, when I lose my chains and engines and things, what word is there I can say?"

KEITH-BOTTORF

Wedding Beautifully Solemnized
in the Baptist Church at Owensboro--Bridal Trip North.

A very pretty wedding, marked by good taste in all its arrangements was that of Miss Janey B. Keith and Mr. H. Wilbur Bottorf, which took place Thursday morning at 8 o'clock at the First Baptist church.

The ceremony was impressively solemnized by the pastor, Dr. E. E. Bomar, and was witnessed by the relatives and many friends of this popular young couple.

The church was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and vines.

The bride was lovely in a traveling costume of brown, with brown beaver hat, gloves and shoes in same shade, and carrying a bouquet of bride roses. The only attendants were the ushers, Mr. Yewell Bottorf and Mr. R. E. Thoma.

The wedding music was very pretty, and was rendered by Miss Ethel Miller on the organ and Miss Rachel Gore on the violin, who played an attractive program while the wedding guests assembled, the Lohengrin Bridal chorus for the entrance of the bridal party, MacDowell's To a Wind Rose during the ceremony, and the Mendelssohn Wedding march for the recessional.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Dixie Keith, and is a pretty girl with many attractive qualities which have won her many friends. Mr. Bottorf is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Bottorf, and bookkeeper at the Owensboro Banking Company. He is a fine business man and much esteemed in business and social circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Bottorf left on the 8:35 P. M. and St. L. train for a bridal trip to Chicago and other points. On their return they will be at home at 114 Fourth street where they have taken apartments—Owensboro Inquirer.

CHAPTER VIII.

When the waves are running freely it is a stiff pull from Mino Host's select little hut in the Wisconsin woods to Glen Island, but on a perfect moonlight night, with just breeze sufficient to ripple the fair hair of a pretty girl opposite, the man at the oars seldom finds the task arduous.

Nor did Mayor Bedight complain. The running ripple slapped the prow of the boat rhythmically and from the shadows along the approaching shore of the island the weird hoot of an owl proclaimed the witchery of the night.

With a scarcely perceptible tilt, the boat glided on the shelving sandy shore. Bedight sprang out and pulled the craft further upon its cushioned anchorage. The girl sat in the boat, intently watching the mayor. That gentleman took from the locker a basket well laden. Quickly gathering some dry wood, he stacked it over a bunch of tinder-like weeds, touched a match to the pile, set the basket at a safe distance and pulling a revolver from his pocket, fired in the general direction of the moon.

Having maneuvered thus peculiarly, he hastened back to the boat, shoved off and rowed from the shore a hundred yards, resting on his oars, he let the boat toss idly upon the lake. Five, ten minutes passed. The dry wood burned brightly, making a beacon of light, into the circle of which there came, at last, three shadows, followed by unintelligible conversation.

"They've found it," said the mayor, picking up his oars and turning the boat toward the hotel.

It was midnight when the sides of the craft rubbed its sister boats at Mino Host's dock. The mayor and the girl crept softly up the winding pathway toward the hotel. Suddenly, in the moonlight ahead, the form of a woman appeared advancing to meet them. The mayor and the girl saw her simultaneously. He stopped instantly with a restraining hand upon the girl's arm.

"Quick!" he commanded, springing in front of his companion and turning her about face. "Walk rapidly down the path to the boathouse."

She complied instantly.

Over his shoulder the mayor saw the woman hesitate, then follow determinedly through the shimmering moonlight.

"Go into the boathouse," directed Bedight hurriedly. "Wait until I engage her in conversation. Then open the rear door and run for the hotel. And be quiet!"

"I understand," whispered the girl, excitedly.

Slipping through the door, she closed it softly. Pulling a cigar from his pocket, the mayor scratched a match on the sole of his shoe and blew a puff of smoke at the same target which earlier in the evening he had failed to hit with his leaden missile.

The woman rounded the corner and came directly toward him.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Bedight," said "Judge" Vining in a cold, formal voice, "for following you, but as chaplaine of the young ladies at the hotel I feel that it was my duty to do so."

The mayor bowed.

"Duty to the one performing it," he interrupted gallantly, "is oftentimes irksome, but begrudgingly done frequently conveys pleasure to another. I do not desire to appear selfish in your eyes, but I find your duty pleases me greatly," bowing again. "Now, the moonlight—"

The "Judge" made a deprecating gesture.

"Do not attempt to evade," she warned. "I am deeply in earnest. Where is the—the—" She seemed at a loss to proceed. Finally she threw diplomacy to the winds. "Who was the girl with you—alone—at this hour?"

Fired in the General Direction of the Moon.

of the night? I have a right to know and I—had thought you a gentleman, though I should have known that no gentleman would have—have—" she finished lamely.

"Kissed you?" questioned the mayor, the frivolity scarcely gone from his voice.

"Certainly!" she flashed.

Bedight puffed thoughtfully at his cigar, the fragrant pungency of the tobacco wafting to Jackie as she stood in the moonbeam's path, the light giving an ethereal beauty to her trim, erect figure.

"It was wrong, I admit," he said impulsively, "I am willing to admit that—but I refuse to believe that no gentleman could be other than honored by such a privilege. As one who has tried to be such, I would be willing to do it again if—"

"Mr. Bedight—the voice was keen now—and the mayor hesitated. "I did not come here to bandy words. I never shall cease regretting that I am in a sense guilty of a misdemeanor which makes it impossible for me to condemn you as I should—but I warn you not to presume to justify further presumption."

Miss Vining paused effectively.

"But you have not answered my question, Mr. Bedight," she continued. "Who was the girl that came down the path with you?"

The man drew closer to her. The flippancy was gone from his voice. His face was earnest.

"Miss Vining, you have inferred that I am guilty of conduct unbecoming a gentleman. A few mornings ago you ran after me in a spirit of mischief, and in the same spirit I caught you in my arms and kissed you. If I have hurt you I am sincerely sorry, but I, too, am reaping the fruit of folly. You have chosen to arm yourself with a distant demeanor toward me, you rebuff my attempts at entering the circle of your real self, you are 'Judge' both on and off the bench, distant, suspicious, haughty. You pursued me; I took toll. With your permission I promise to forget that you ran, but I cannot forget that I kissed you. I am not a boy. I have seen some of the world. I do not know much about love. I have been too busy trying to do something, to fall in love, or else I never have happened to meet the woman. Since coming here I don't know exactly what sort of an enchantment I have entered—but I do know that I cannot forget the ecstasy of the moment when our lips met. You may scorn me and it lies within your power to discipline me—or defeat me—but I shall not try to obliterate the thrill of that brief moment!"

Jackie Vining did not meet his eyes. In her heart she felt a strange, new feeling of elation, a softening of resentment, but women were theorems long before mathematicians struggled with right-angle triangles and hypotenuses, and all their non-understandable descendants, beautiful and sweet and charming as they are, still persist in being man's hardest problem.

"Your frankness in some things," she said without emotion, "is as commendable as your lack of it in others. Must I repeat my question still another time? Who is the girl?"

The mayor spoke firmly and with decision.

"As a man who is at least that much of a gentleman, I refuse to answer. The girl has done no wrong. She—"

"Mr. Bedight, on Tuesday night I saw one of my crowd of young ladies leave the arbor after a clandestine night meeting with you. Tonight I chance to blunder upon you at midnight, again in the company of a young woman. There are no others here, aside from our party. I feel a responsibility and I must insist on your answering."

The mayor shrugged his shoulders.

"Who was she?" asked the "Judge" for the fourth time.

"Why don't you ask her yourself?" said the mayor.

"Where is she?"

"The last I saw of her she went through that door," he replied, doggedly.

Miss Vining stepped toward the door and opened it. In the farther end of the boathouse a second door stood open and through it the moonlight streamed.

"I see I have been outwitted," angrily.

"May I walk to the hotel with you?" asked the mayor humbly.

"I prefer to go alone," she replied in a tone of finality, starting up the path.

"Miss Vining!"

It was the mayor calling from the dock.

She stopped.

"What is it, Mr. Bedight?" impatiently.

"You remember saying the girl with me must be one of your party because there were no other young ladies about?"

"Yes," crisply.

The mayor's voice had something of the old ring in it as he asked:

"Did you think of the colored cook?"

WHY CRIMMINS IS FOR WILSON

Philanthropist Calls Taft and Roosevelt Protectors of Trusts.

TIME RIPE FOR CHANGE.

Says No One Can Safely Challenge the Soundness of the Views or Leadership of Wilson and Marshall, Who Have Been Before the People.

By JOHN D. CRIMMINS, [Noted Philanthropist and Irish American Leader.]

At the outset of an argument in relation to the approaching election for president and vice president we must view what has caused the great uprising in the country in connection with our economic affairs and the administration of our government in so far as it relates to that subject.

There is no defence offered for the extensive privileges created by the tariff preferences through the Republican party and the favors to the privileged classes and corporations. While wealth has accumulated under these preferences, a fair field and no favor has been denied to the masses.

We cannot expect remedies from men high in office who in their entire life work have been associates and participants with the favored class. Mr. Roosevelt during his entire career in politics and as the head of his party has been the protector of many trusts that the tariff has nourished and fostered, nor have we found him in the seven and one-half years of his official life as president strenuous in removing tariff inequities and inequalities. Mr. Taft in his acts and utterances is a party man, believing in a protective tariff, and if elected, defend what to many minds is the supreme cause of unrest.

Free From Evil Associations.

In Mr. Wilson and his associate, the candidate for vice president, we have two men who have had no associations with the privileged class, who have never been in a position to grant or accept favors or to participate in any measure that could possibly relate to their personal welfare or increase their incomes. In the respective professions that these two gentlemen have occupied they have been day laborers, working at their desks as many hours as the workman who is industrious and faithful to his task.

The very fact that they have been selected as candidates for the office of president and vice president of these United States is an illustration of one of the great boasts of the American people that the man who is faithful to his trust, honest in his work, fearless and courageous in his opinions, will in time be noticed and receive a reward. They have watched with concern every side of our political life that enters into the government of our people, voicing their approval or disapproval of situations as they arose.

Are Typical Americans.

No one can safely challenge the soundness of their views or their leadership where economic questions enter into our governmental affairs. They are typical Americans.

Governor Wilson and Governor Marshall have both been before the people when they received the approval of a majority of the citizens of their respective states for the high office of governor. If it be the good fortune of the country to have these two gentlemen occupy the presidency and vice

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—you do you will be disappointed.

But the "Judge," going up the path briskly, did not deign to reply.

CAMPAIGN MUD ANGERS VETERAN

"Comrade" Editor's Effort to Distort Democratic Position on Pensions Rebuked.

CIRCULAR TO G. A. R. POSTS.

Bought "Means" and "Harsh" Expressions by Wilson Supporters, but Finds Facts the Reverse.

Ignoring the fact that the Democratic house passed the most liberal pension bill in the history of the United States and that it was the Republican senate that reduced the appropriation the editor of the National Tribune of Washington has appealed to grand army posts all over the country to supply campaign material for use against the Democratic party.

Colonel (Sergeant) John McElroy, the editor, has not met always with the co-operation he desired. This is evidenced by the fact that indignant grand army men have forwarded his circular letters to Democratic national headquarters in New York with their protests against the playing of such politics within the old soldiers' organization.

Quest For "Mean" Things. Editor McElroy's appeal was sent out, mimeographed, on the letterhead of the National Tribune, with his own name at the top. The letter read:

Sept. 12, 1912. Comrade—We are anxious to get the expression of editorialists on pensions from the papers supporting Wilson in your neighborhood. Will you kindly look over the files of your local papers and send us anything particularly harsh and mean which they have published. We want to show conclusively the attitude of the men who are supporting Wilson and who will control his administration if elected. Please send these at your earliest convenience, as the time is short. Fraternal ly, THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE

One of the replies sent to the Tribune was:

Headquarters Cushing Post, No. 14, G. A. R., Astoria, Ore., Sept. 23, 1912. National Tribune, Washington, D. C.:

Gentlemen—Your communication addressed to me as adjutant of Cushing Post, No. 14, of the 15th inst. I found today on my return from the national encampment at Los Angeles, Cal. Thus the delay in answering.

You wish me to look over the files of our local papers and send you "anything particularly harsh and mean" which they have published regarding pensions. As you have specified that these "harsh" and "mean" comments must be from papers supporting Wilson I must inform you that the papers supporting Wilson throughout the state, so far as I have been able to learn, are friendly toward the interests of the civil war veterans and endorse the action of the Democratic house of the United States congress in its passage of the pension bill in the special and last session of congress and have no fault to find with Senator Kern for his eloquent appeal in the senate in behalf of the civil war veterans.

If you are really looking for "mean" and "harsh" editorials along this line, if your object in this search is for the interests of the old soldiers, you will find enough "mean" and "harsh" things in the papers that are supporting Mr. Taft. And if you wish to prospect away out here in Oregon (politically) for other than pure gold please excuse the adjutant of Cushing Post, No. 14, department of Oregon, G. A. R., in assisting.

MEAN SWEEP FOR WILSON

Democratic Gains in Vermont and Maine Impressive.

OTHER PARTIES IN FLIGHT.

Third Termers to Poll Their Entire Strength From the Rapidly Thinning Republican Ranks—Indications Are That Taft Will Carry but Two States, Roosevelt None.

That the results of the state elections in Vermont and Maine mean a tremendous Democratic victory in November is freely admitted by all except the bitterest partisans. Political experts have done much analyzing, and some claim to have reached novel conclusions. But these facts stand out:

On Monday, Sept. 9, 1912, the Republican and third term parties combined elected William T. Haines governor of Maine over Frederick W. Plaisted, the present Democratic incumbent, by 3,023 plurality; in 1908, a presidential year, a Republican was elected governor by 7,653 plurality; in 1904 the plurality was 25,800, and in 1900 it was 34,132. In other words, in twelve years the Democrats have cut down the Republican plurality in state elections by 31,109.

In this period the Democratic vote has increased from 30,000 to 68,000, whereas the Republican vote has decreased from 74,000 to 71,000. The Democratic vote of this year exceeds that of September, 1908, by 1,000, but the Republican vote is about 2,000 less than that party cast four years ago.

The split in the Republican ranks, following the election of William T. Haines, is pronounced. If the division in Maine in November is as it was in the recent Vermont election six-tenths of the Republican vote will go for Taft, three-tenths for Roosevelt and one-tenth for the Democrats. It is significant that the latter party has to date suffered no losses, as compared with the vote in previous years, from the third term movement. On the contrary, it has gained. The result in Maine may be expected to be something like this: Wilson, 74,000; Taft, 42,600; Roosevelt, 21,300.

The returns from the recent Vermont election show in round figures that the joint Republican and third party vote was 8 per cent short of the Republican vote four years ago, while the Democratic vote in that state shows a gain of 25 per cent over that of 1908. It is of special interest to speculate what will happen next November throughout the nation if the Republican and Democratic vote for the national tickets happens to be affected as the gubernatorial vote this month in Vermont has been affected. The New York Post has done some interesting figuring along this line, and as a net result it is shown that under the contingencies mentioned President Taft would carry only two states in November, Rhode Island and Vermont. All the others going for Governor Wilson. The conclusions reached by the Post follow:

To compute this result we should have to deduct 8 per cent from the vote cast for Taft four years ago and apportion the remaining vote in the ratio of 62 to 38 between Taft and Roosevelt, and we should have to add 35 per cent to Bryan's vote in 1908 and give the "democratic total" to Woodrow Wilson—in other words, give Taft 57 per cent and Roosevelt 35 per cent of Taft's vote four years ago and give Wilson 125 per cent of Bryan's vote four years ago.

The result in round numbers would be as follows, so far as regards Taft and Wilson:

STEEL TRUST BACK OF T. R. TRUST PLAN

Charge Challenged, Gov. Wilson Returns With Prompt and Convincing Answer.

COUNTRY WAITED FOR CLASH.

Wondered If It Was to Produce a Parallel of Parker Episode—Mora Proof If It Is Wanted.

When the country read on the morning of Oct. 8 the charge of Woodrow Wilson before his audiences in Colorado that the steel trust is back of the Roosevelt program of trust regulation and in the same papers Colonel Roosevelt's demand for proof of the assertion it sat up and took notice. Would this produce a parallel of the famous episode of the 1904 campaign, when the colonel called Judge Parker a liar for asserting (what has been so recently proved) that the corporations were contributing to the Roosevelt campaign?

There was eager waiting for Governor Wilson's answer. It came promptly the next day in his speech at Kansas City. Concisely, convincingly and dispassionately Governor Wilson met the Roosevelt challenge, and should the controversy be pressed further the Democratic candidate will give the bull moose all he wants, for the corroboration whereof he spoke is abundant.

Wilson's Charge.

At Pueblo, the center of the western steel industry, Governor Wilson said: "Evidence of what I am about to say comes to me by way of corroboration every day in forms that I cannot question. It is a very interesting circumstance that the United States Steel corporation is behind the third party program with regard to the regulation of the trusts."

"Now, I do not say that to prejudice you. I am perfectly ready to admit that the officers of that corporation may think that the third party is the best thing for the United States. That is not my point. My point is that these gentlemen have grown up in the atmosphere of the things they themselves have created and that the laws of the United States so far have attempted to destroy the things that they have created and that they now want a government which will perpetuate the things they have created."

"You therefore have to choose now a government such as the United States Steel corporation thinks the United States ought to have or a government such as we used to have before these gentlemen succeeded in setting up private monopoly."

Roosevelt's Challenge.

The same night at Albany, N. Y., Colonel Roosevelt upon reading reports of Governor Wilson's speech said:

"As far as I know the statement has not the slightest foundation in fact. Mr. Wilson has no business to make such a statement unless he has the proof, and if he has any proof I demand that he make it public immediately. If he has not let him retract his statement as the only manly and honorable thing to do."

Wilson's "Retort Courteous."

The next night Governor Wilson made this reply before the great audience that greeted him in Kansas City:

"I understand from the newspaper reports that Mr. Roosevelt was distressed by my suggestion the other day that the United States Steel corporation was back of his plan for controlling the trusts. He interpreted my remark to mean that they were supporting him with their money. I was not thinking about money."

"I do not know whether they are supporting him with their money or not. It does not make any difference. What I meant was that they are supporting him with their thought, and their thought is not our thought. I meant, and I say again, that the kind of control which he proposes is the kind of control that the United States Steel corporation wants."

"I am perfectly willing to admit that they think it is the best for the country. My point is that this is a method conceived from the point of view of the very men who are to be controlled and that that is just the wrong point of view from which to conceive it."

"If Mr. Roosevelt is willing to have Mr. Perkins suggest how the corporations ought to be regulated why will he not be willing to take suggestions from the same quarters as to the details of the regulation? Mark you, ladies and gentlemen, I am not discussing individuals. I know Mr. George Perkins. I have no quarrel with any thing except his judgment. He does not look at these things in the way men who do not wish to accustom their minds to monopoly look at them."

There should be an immediate revision of the tariff downward. It should begin with the schedules most obviously used to kill competition and raise prices in the United States, and should be extended to every item which affords opportunity for monopoly and special advantage until special favors shall have been absolutely withdrawn and our laws of taxation transformed from a system of governmental patronage into a system of just and reasonable charges which shall fall where they will create the least burden.

"Honestly, What Are You Running For, the Presidency or For Revenge?"

—From the New York Herald.

WHY DR. WILEY IS FOR WILSON

He Says Taft and T. R. Are Soldiers of Fraud.

ENEMIES OF PURE FOOD LAW.

Famous Chemist Believes the Health of the Nation Demands Election of the Democratic Ticket—He Appeals to Those Who, Like Himself, Have Been Republicans.

By HARVEY W. WILEY.
(Former Chief Chemist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

My appeal is chiefly to those who, like myself, have been lifelong Republicans. I believe that no kind of administration is going to ruin the country. I have a high personal regard for each one of the candidates for president and vice president on all the tickets. All the political platforms are mainly sound, and all promise effort in behalf of the whole people. My choice is not based on a platform. It was determined by my impressions of the real attitude of the candidates respecting the public welfare. We are creatures of heredity and environment. In our attitude toward great public questions we are almost altogether creatures of environment.

What two men are by environment least likely to be swayed by special interests and most likely to be guided by devotion to public welfare? Two of the candidates have already been tried in the presidential chair, and we know by experience what may be expected if either of them resumes his former seat on March 4, 1913. Mr. Roosevelt by reason of his attitude toward the food and drug act abandoned the consumers of the country to the rapacity of a few mercenary manufacturers. Under authority of congress I had carried on extensive experiments with my so-called poison squad and found that certain substances—viz, benzole compounds, sulphurous compounds and sulphate of copper bluestone—were injurious to health.

The law conferred upon me as chief of the bureau of chemistry the duty of acting as a grand jury and determining whether foods and drugs were adulterated or misbranded. Instead of appealing from my decisions to the courts, as the law requires, the users of these poisons appealed to President Roosevelt. He not only listened to them, but he abrogated the plain provisions of the law, appointed a board not contemplated by the law and directed that these predatory interests might continue their attacks on the health of the people until this board, unknown to the law, should decide otherwise.

Can we safely trust the campaign for public health to Mr. Roosevelt? I cannot believe that to be the proper course. Mr. Taft inherited this exceedingly bad condition of affairs from his predecessor and has not only continued this illegal board under whose patronage adulterators are still poisoning the people, but he did worse. In the matter of the adulteration of distilled beverages in which Roosevelt upheld the legally constituted authorities Mr. Taft reversed that policy and threw the mighty weight of the executive office to the support of the worst lot of adulterators that ever disgraced a country.

Mr. Wilson and Mr. Marshall by their strenuous efforts in behalf of the food laws of their respective states have given a positive promise to end such a threatening state of affairs. They will support to the utmost the officials under the law who are trying to protect the public health and will make short shrift of those who have brought about these present unbearable conditions.

Wilson and Marshall by their education and environment are free from him in favor of predatory interests and are inspired by true patriotic zeal in behalf of public welfare.

I support the Democratic nominees in full knowledge that many of the prominent Democrats in congress have been in full sympathy with the paralysis of the food law in behalf of the unholy dollar. But when the Democratic president and vice president lend the aid of their powerful sympathy in behalf of the public health those of their own party not in sympathy with them will be robbed of their power for evil. If Roosevelt or Taft be chosen the soldiers of fraud and adulteration will be impregably entrenched for another four years and benzones, sulphates and adulterated alcoholic beverages will have a new lease of life.

I believe also that President Wilson will renovate the department of agriculture, reeking, as it has been for the past twelve years, with scandals and favoritism. He will see to it that the bureau of animal industry will protect the public health instead of the efforts of the packers to sell diseased meats under the deceptive phrase "U. S. Inspected and Passed." Under President Wilson no more Pinchots will be kicked out of the service, no more unspeakable McCabes will exercise dictatorial powers. There will be no more cotton lunks and jungle atrocities, no more Everglade swindles. Bureaucracy, boasting and buncombe will give place to sane efforts for the promotion of real agriculture and the public health.

Under Wilson the department of agriculture will be restored to speaking terms with the state agricultural colleges and experiment stations, and the state officials will no longer be regarded as inferior beings, living only on the largess of a Washington cabal. I ask all who want honesty and faithful service in the department of agriculture, the promotion of public health and executives who have grown to manhood and lived in an environment favorable to that which makes for the public welfare to vote for Wilson and Marshall.

The Love Letters of a Confederate General

WE begin in the November issue a series of real love-letters written over fifty years ago by one of our national heroes to his sweetheart during the period of '61 to '65. This great general will go down to posterity as having accomplished one of the most brilliant feats of arms in the history of the world. He was as great a lover as he was a general, therefore these letters combine authentic history and exquisite romance. They sound a human note that no other work of literature has done in a decade; it is war, it is romance, it is history, it is literature. You simply can't afford to miss this wonderful series—an inside story of the Civil War now published for the first time and containing all the freshness of a contemporary happening. These letters will grip you hard, and hold your interest from first to last. Fill out the coupon and send it now before you forget it.

It's a common error
To plaster the aching back,
To rub with liniments, rheumatic joints.

If the trouble comes from the kidneys.

It's time to use Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is convincing proof of merit. Mrs. W. N. Bartlett, 620 Triplett, St., Owensboro, Ky., says: "Several years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills and cannot say too much in their praise. For a long time I had nearly every symptom of kidney disease. My back ached terribly at night and I did not sleep well. During the day I was nervous and in bed all the time. My feet became swollen and I knew that I required a good remedy to cure me. I had often heard Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, so I procured a supply and began taking them as directed. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and they are the only remedy that I will ever use for kidney trouble. I can highly recommend them, as they lived up to the claims made for them."
